UN's AGENDA 21/2030 - The Hidden Agenda Of 'Sustainable Development'

"It's In The Process Of Being Implemented"...

Agenda 21 is a 300-page global action plan written by the United Nations and signed by 179 countries in 1992. It is supported by all Western governments including Australia, Canada, Britain, France, Germany, Italy etc. Some refer to it as "The New World Order" or "Sustainable Development."

NOTE: Agenda 21 and Agenda 2030 are actually the same thing, the difference being the 2030 version just goes into a little more detail about its execution and adds 17 new sustainable development goals. In reality, they are both the same. Much of it has seeped into the Great Reset. But for the sake of keeping this article simple, I'll be referring to it as Agenda 21. I'll also link the PDF for Agenda 2030 below this article.

Agenda 21 is intended to integrate currently existing international law, treaties, conventions and proposals into a single overarching framework agreement. This will allow all nations to be bound to this one system of rules in an attempt to create this one-world system that will circumvent any current or future National Constitution, Law or Regulation.

In 2012, there was a massive wave of "sustainable" initiatives introduced at the local level all across America. It was overwhelming. Nobody understood what the hell it really meant. The agenda was being pushed by both Democrats and Republicans, while both were quick to blame each other for the movement. The truth is, it came from both sides. And this confusion has been used to usher in a massive change in government policy at all levels, from local school boards to state legislatures and even Congress.

The concept of sustainability was big then and it's only grown since then - into something that's beginning to look like a religion. We're not just talking recycling here - we're talking about an active effort through a comprehensive blueprint for global socialist/communist redistribution of wealth and global governance. And it's being forced on us from every direction.

Rosa Koire explained it all perfectly in this must-watch piece (She passed away from lung cancer a few months ago):

The ultimate goal of the program is to control the population by controlling our diminishing resources. According to the UN, "Agenda 21 proposes an array of actions which are intended to be implemented by every person on Earth... it calls for specific changes in the activities of all people... Effective execution of Agenda 21 will require a profound reorientation of all humans, unlike anything the world has ever experienced..."

To achieve this "profound reorientation," it is necessary to teach school children about Agenda 21. This way they will grow up thinking everyone is responsible for protecting the environment. Through legislation, it will be made illegal to use any products that might harm the environment. People who don't comply will be persecuted as criminals, just like in Communist countries.

The United Nations has decided that governments will have absolute authority over all resources and demands that we all reduce consumption and move toward living in crowded cities under strict government control with less personal freedom and no private property rights. It is a call for central planning of the economy and society via control over energy use, education, transportation and production of food. Agenda 21 would place every person on Earth under the watchful eye of an unseen ruling body that thinks it knows what's best for us better than we do ourselves.

Some of the things Agenda 21 advocates for are the following:

1. Agenda 21 advocates depopulation of rural areas in favor of cities.
2. It also advocates that people have fewer children or none at all – especially those who live in rural areas.
3. In order to "save endangered species", Agenda 21 advocates taking away private property rights as well as limiting consumption and production via taxes and fees on things like gasoline, etc...
4. It promotes social justice, economic equality, and solidarism. (Sound familiar?)
5. It suggests at various points that nations should eliminate or drastically reduce automobile use and replace it with public transportation.
6. Agenda 21 also seeks to eliminate or phase out domestic air travel. (see Green New Deal)

According to the UN (archived) over 528 cities in the United States are members of ICLEI, a worldwide sustainability group that aids with the implementation of Agenda 21 and Local Agenda 21 concepts around the world. The United States accounts for roughly half of ICLEI's global membership of 1,200 cities advocating local sustainable development. The United States also has one of the most comprehensively documented Agenda 21 status reports.

The agenda is being introduced in every country, in every state, in every town, in every neighborhood by people who do not have your best interests at heart, whether they are well meaning dupes, useful idiots or just innocently ignorant pawns in the game. If you think this agenda does not concern you because you are not an environmentalist or you are not involved with the United Nations or you are not into New Age religion or any other reason – then think again.

Agenda 21 is a master plan to change the way we live; to change the way we relate to the Earth; to change our attitude towards money and material goods; to alter our values; and alter our behavior.

Agenda 21 is not a conspiracy theory. It is a plan that has been in development for over 25 years and in the words of its creators it is in "the process of being implemented".

Read it for yourself via the UN Division for Sustainable Development Goals website:

The elite have spent years manipulating humanity's systems of governance and finance in order to create conditions that will make the 'Agenda' possible. They've been using wars and economic crises to cull the herd and weaken national sovereignty while they build up their own power through global institutions like the UN and IMF.

Individuals with great power seek to control you. But you have a choice.

Sincerely yours,
-Alexander

A great article. But when are you going to come up with a recent, up to date account of what's happening right now?
